THE ROADHANDLER

Here's the Steel-belted Radial Tire that outwears, outstops, outcorners and just plain outhandles our original Steel-belted Radial, the famous "tire that beat the Baja".

The RoadHandler is built with 16% more steel under a tread that's 13% wider, 10% deeper at the center. Puts 12% more rubber in contact with the road. In laboratory tests, it had 15% better wet cornering traction and 5% better dry braking traction. And in road tread life tests, it delivered 10% better mileage. All this, yet tests also showed that the RoadHandler runs quieter.

But our Butter-Ring Popper starts melting and spreading butter automatically almost from the first kernel . . and keeps on until the last. That means deliciously buttered corn in each and every handful

Mineral/Metal Detectors with waterproof search coils and solid-state circuitry

Two types—BFO (beat frequency oscillator) or TR (transmitter/receiver):

BFO-type Detectors have simpler design and lighter weight. Variations in sound pitch tells you when object is located. TR-type Detectors are more sophisticated so you can get a better "feel" for what is beneath you. They can be tuned to silent running without losing sensitivity. They tend to drift less.

How does a Reflector Telescope work?

Light enters tube from top and is gathered by the objective mirror . . the larger the mirror the more light it gathers and the brighter the image. The objective mirror reflects the light onto another mirror which directs the image to the eyepiece.
